Meeting Reminders

Policy No. 16 (Abbreviated)
Policy on Public Hearings and Conduct at Public Meetings

Public Hearing/Public Meeting

A public hearing is a formal opportunity for citizens to give their views to the Town Council for consideration in its decision making process on a specific issue. At a minimum, a public hearing shall provide for submission of both oral and written testimony for and against the action or matter at issue.

Oral Communication

It is the Council's goal that citizens resolve their complaints for service or regarding employees' performance at the staff level. However, it is recognized that citizens may from time to time believe it is necessary to speak to Town Council on matters of concern. Accordingly, Town Council expects any citizen to speak in a civil manner, with due respect for the decorum of the meeting, and with due respect for all persons attending.

- No member of the public shall be heard until recognized by the presiding officer.
- Public comments related to non-agenda items will only be heard during the Public Comment portion of the meeting unless the issue is a Public Hearing. Public comments specifically related to an agenda item will be heard immediately prior to the Council taking up the item for deliberation.
- Speakers must state their name for the record.
- Any citizen requesting to speak shall limit him or herself to matters of fact regarding the issue of concern.
- Comments should be limited to three (3) minutes unless prior approval by the presiding officer.
- If a representative is elected to speak for a group, the presiding officer may approve an increased time allotment.
- If a response from the Council or Board is requested by the speaker and cannot be made verbally at the Council or Board meeting, the speaker's concerns should be addressed in writing within two weeks.
- Personal attacks made publicly toward any citizen, council member, or town employees are not allowed. Citizens are encouraged to bring their complaints regarding employee performance through the supervisory chain of command.

Any member of the public interrupting Town Council proceedings, approaching the dais without permission, otherwise creating a disturbance, or failing to abide by these rules of procedure in addressing Town Council, shall be deemed to have disrupted a public meeting and, at the direction of the presiding officer, shall be removed from the meeting room by Police Department personnel or other agent designated by Town Council or Operations Manager.

WEST YELLOWSTONE TOWN COUNCIL
Town Council Meeting & Work Session
March 3, 2015

COUNCIL MEMBERS PRESENT: Mayor Brad Schmier, Jerry Johnson, John Costello, Cole Parker, Greg Forsythe

OTHERS PRESENT: Operations Manager Becky Guay, Finance Director Lanie Gospodarek, Public Services Superintendent James Patterson, Chief of Police Scott Newell

The meeting is called to order by Mayor Brad Schmier at 6:00 PM in the West Yellowstone Town Hall, 440 Yellowstone Avenue, West Yellowstone, Montana.

Portions of the meeting are being recorded.

The Treasurer's Report with corresponding banking transactions is on file at the Town Offices for public review during regular business hours.

WORK SESSION

Mayor Schmier calls the work session to order and explains that the topic they are here to discuss is the resort tax ordinance, specifically penalties, tax-exempt payers, and auditing. He recaps that Glenn Hales, on behalf of the Yellowstone Imax Theatre, Yellowstone Trading Post, and Buffalo Crossing RV Park, has requested a reduction of the penalties that were assessed due to late resort tax payments. The Council discusses the current section of the ordinance that addresses penalties for late payments. Finance Director Lanie Gospodarek explains some history of how the penalty structure has evolved over the years, mostly due to the fact that the original ordinance did not provide for effective enforcement mechanisms and mentions a circumstance several years back where a business owed $30,000 that the Town never collected. The penalty section of the ordinance was updated in 2003 and then again in 2006 and 2007. Costello asks if it would be a lot of work for the staff to send out reminders to businesses that missed payments more frequently. Gospodarek explains that the last time there was an appeal of this nature the Council agreed that the reminders should be sent out on a quarterly basis. The group discusses the possibility of increasing the frequency of the reminders. Costello says that according to the information provided by Hales at the previous meeting, other communities do notify delinquent businesses on a monthly basis. The majority of the Council indicates they would prefer that reminders are sent on a monthly basis. Gospodarek explains that part of the problem is issues with the software and the delinquency report. Costello says that he would prefer to hear a proposal from the Finance Department that could address this problem on a more timely basis. Schmier says that he doesn't think this is a huge problem and they should be able to figure something out. He says that they need to look at the penalty rate and discuss whether 10% per month is reasonable. Johnson points out that the penalty should be higher than current interest rates. Parker asks Hales what he thinks is typical for interest on businesses. Hales says that interest rates fluctuate, but it appears that 12%-18% penalties per annum are the norm, which is closer to 1%-2% per month. Hales says that it concerns him to hear that another business that owed $30,000 was not collected but they do collect from all the small businesses. He says that in some respects, stiffer penalties just make it harder for the business to pay the money it owes. Hales says that resolving the issue of notification would make things better for the business owners. He says that it does seem like the Town was almost waiting until the penalties accrued to a large amount before he was notified. Guay clarifies that the $30,000 that wasn't collected was nearly 15 years ago and Gospodarek points out that having a lenient tax penalty structure can lead to problems like that. The Council discusses possible ramifications of changing the penalty structure. Schmier asks the group to consider whether they would need to make any changes retroactive and whether a decision on this issue would set a precedent. Hales points out that in the example of the appeal made by Rob Klatt 18 months ago, he was only penalized for the four months between when he was notified of the delinquency and when he made his appeal. He says that sets a precedence of only applying the penalties from when the notification was set. Forsythe says that does not think they would have to make anything retroactive, credit card rates change all the time and they just move forward. Forsythe suggests they send notifications monthly, keep the same penalty amounts, and lower the percentages to 2% per month or 24% per annum. Teri Gibson suggests they send an email out to all the businesses on the 15th of the month reminding them that resort tax is due in five days. Johnson suggests they eliminate the percentages and just use flat fee penalties based on gross sales. It is pointed out that assessing the same penalty to a small business has a much larger impact than on a large corporation. Multiple suggestions are made as to how to adjust the penalty structure that range from 1% per month to 36% per year. Gospodarek says that if they are going to make changes to the ordinance, they would like to propose some other changes to the ordinance. She says that they have always enforced that "tax-exempt" entities such as foreign diplomats and non-profit groups still have to pay the tax. That language is not in the ordinance and the Town Attorney has recommended that be put into the ordinance. She also explains that they have had some issues enforcing the auditing portion of the ordinance and they would also like to propose language to add to that section. The Council agrees and asks Gospodarek to put those recommendations in writing for when they are ready to move ahead and amend the ordinance.

The work session adjourns at 7:15 PM and the regular meeting convenes at 7:30 PM.

Public Comment Period

No public comment is received.

Council Comments

Council Member Parker mentions the banners in Pioneer Park and the appearances on the local TV station to advertise the upcoming Wild Bill Octane Nights. He credits Katrina and Travis Mann for their efforts to put this event together and hopes it turns out well. Mayor Schmier mentions that Social Services Director Jack Dittmann has announced his retirement effective March 19 after working for the Town for ten years. He also recognizes Joyce Berger who announced her retirement this past Friday. Berger has worked for the Town for 26 years. Parker inquires about support for Kathi Arnado in the Social Services Department. Guay explains that the department will be closed for the next couple of days due to a family emergency, but Arnado will return on Friday. Johnson asks if they have any volunteers that can assist. Guay says that Frank Bezold has been helping out but volunteers do need to be trained to operate the food bank or any of their other services.

DISCUSSION

- 3) Mayor Schmier explains that the request from Glenn Hales for a reduction of the penalties associated with late resort tax payments was tabled at the last meeting. The Council discussed the issue at the work session earlier this evening. Johnson clarifies how the penalties are calculated. Forsythe says he would like to recommend they apply the highest percentage as applied by other resort communities, which is Red Lodge. After discussion between the Council and Finance Director, Forsythe makes a motion to reduce the percentage rate to a total of 12% plus the appropriate penalty fees. Johnson asks Hales if he is satisfied with this solution. Hales says that he is but encourages the Council to change the ordinance and make the changes that were discussed so other businesses are not negatively affected.

- 4) The Council discusses the West Yellowstone Aquatic Center. Schmier explains that he put this topic on the agenda for the Town Council to consider whether they want to take any further action. Johnson says that they previously discussed that the only thing the Council might be able to agree on is a resolution guaranteeing property, should the project be able to comply with certain conditions and fund-raising. Johnson reads a resolution that was prepared by Guay several months ago that states such. Costello says he can live with the resolution. Parker says that they have been discussing this project for over a year. He says that they heard from some members of the community at the last meeting that opposed giving the property to the project. He says the property has sat there empty for his entire life. He says that Clark referred to a petition at the last meeting and asks if that is available. Town Clerk Liz Roos gives the Council a copy of the petition document that was delivered to the Town last Friday. Mayor Schmier points out that the petition has been signed by people that do not live in Town but do own property in town. Forsythe says that at the last meeting they discussed whether passing such a resolution will even help the Clarks move forward with the project. Deborah Clark says that they would have to give it a trial period to see if it is sufficient. She says that she thinks some donors would rather than giving them money, just guarantee it until the property is secured. Scott Clark asks what would happen if the Town passed this resolution, built something else on the piece of property between Yellowstone and Obsidian, and then the acquisition of the 80 acres from the Forest Service fell through. Forsythe says that he believes the resolution obligates the Town. Johnson agrees but says that a resolution is only as good as the Council that signed it and a resolution is not iron-clad. Guay agrees that resolutions can be changed and they cannot financially obligate future Councils, however the resolution does refer to a lease that would be permanent. Katrina Mann says that as a resident and business owner she supports the project and thinks it would be a great benefit to the community. Patterson questions whether they can adopt the resolution without also approving a lease at the same time. Schmier answers that the lease will come at a later date, once the WY Aquatic Center has complied with the requirements. It is also pointed out that the parcel is not specifically identified in the resolution.
- A) Operations Manager & Department Head Reports: Operations Manager Becky Guay refers to the “daily update” email that was distributed earlier in the day. She says that they have made an offer to hire a police officer and are hoping the candidate will accept. She mentions the appraisals for the Emergency Services Building and the US Forest Service 80 acres are progressing. Johnson asks about the retirement of Court Clerk Joyce Berger after 26 years. Guay confirms that Berger retired last Friday after 26 years of working for the Town and they wish her well in her retirement. Johnson also asks about replacing Berger and Guay explains that it is the recommendation of the Judge that they only hire a part-time employee at this time. They have compared the case-load to other jurisdictions and feel that is sufficient. Public Services Superintendent James Patterson briefly describes the repairs that are being made to the north side of the Town Hall. He says that Dick Anderson Construction has hired contractors that have dried out the moisture, replaced sheetrock, and repainted. He says that they are still working on making sure the building stays at a constant temperature so they do not get the temperature swings that cause the ice dams. His recommendation is to apply heat tape but they have to ensure the attic can stay cool, first. The Council discusses the problem and Patterson indicates that he will keep the Council informed as they work through the issue. Forsythe says that they had a similar problem at the school when it was built, which was an architectural problem and he believes this problem is also architectural. Patterson says that Dick Anderson has been very responsive to the problem and they do appreciate that. Schmier asks about the ice skating rink and whether it can be removed prior to the concert events over Expo weekend. Patterson explains that there is a Kids N Snow event scheduled for this weekend and the ice rink is frozen solid. He says they will not be able to remove the rink. There is also discussion about how soon Robbie Hermanson can start dismantling the sledding hill in the park on Sunday in order to prepare for the weekend events. Finance Director Lanie Gospodarek explains that they have been working on union negotiations and resort tax audits. Chief of Police Scott Newell thanks Patterson for completing the room in the basement of the Town Hall for evidence and records storage. He says they are in the process of hiring a new officer and still reviewing another potential candidate. He mentions some technology issues they have had in the dispatch area but are working through them.

FYI/Correspondence

Mayor Schmier adds that HB 262 has passed the house and been referred to the Senate Taxation Committee. The hearing for the bill was scheduled for March 6 but the hearing has since been canceled. They will watch the progress of the bill and let everyone know when the hearing is rescheduled. Operations Manager Becky Guay explains that the MLCT has asked for support for HB 471, a bill that would allow local governments to raise the “floating mill” to raise mill levys by up to the rate of inflation.

The meeting is adjourned. (9:00 PM)

COUNCIL MEMBERS PRESENT: Mayor Brad Schmier, Jerry Johnson, Cole Parker, John Costello

OTHERS PRESENT: Chief of Police Scott Newell, Finance Director Lanie Gospodarek, Police Officer Anthony Kearney, Richard & Teri Gibson, Doc Stewart, Helene Righenour

The meeting is called to order by Mayor Brad Schmier at 7:00 PM in the West Yellowstone Town Hall, 440 Yellowstone Avenue, West Yellowstone, Montana

Public Comment Period/Council Comments: Johnson asks if anyone knows how the participation was in the Rendezvous Race last weekend. Costello says he heard they had 65 more than last year, which they estimate to be in the high 500s. Town Clerk Liz Roos shares that the hearing before the Senate Taxation Committee for House Bill 262 has been rescheduled for March 19. Chief of Police Scott Newell introduces Anthony Kearney, a new police patrol officer that just started work today. Mayor Schmier administers the oath for Officer Kearney.

Mayor Schmier calls the meeting to order and explains that their purpose this evening is to discuss the recruitment process for a new Operations Manager. The group first discusses the job announcement. Costello explains that he met last week with Jim Doar, the Gallatin County Administrator and refers to an email he sent out following that meeting. Doar recommended a much higher salary range than the $69,000 to $82,000 that has been offered previously to attract more qualified candidates. The group discusses what amount the Town can afford and what the current range is based on. Mayor Schmier asks the staff to call the communities that have been surveyed in the past and see if they can determine what the market competitive range is now. Costello asks the group how they should deal with the Government Study Commission. He says that Doar felt this was a real issue and, at a minimum, need to mention that in the job announcement. The Council discusses the issue at length and how to handle that aspect of filling the job. Costello says he thinks this is a big issue. Johnson says that he thinks they mention it in the job announcement and they should be prepared to answer questions about the process from prospective applicants. The Council discusses the job description for Operations Manager. Schmier points out that this is the job description that the current Operations Manager was hired under. The group considers whether this job description is in accordance with Chapter 3.16 of the West Yellowstone Municipal Code and the section of the Charter that pertains to the Operations Manager. The group discusses the job description at length. Schmier states that he thinks some of the problems they have had in the past really just come down to communication and personalities. Stewart points out that it is the responsibility of the Operations Manager is to manage those issues and get along with everyone. The Council makes minor suggestions and changes to the job description. The group extensively discusses the proposal to hire a headhunter or professional recruiting firm. The firm "Prothman" is discussed. Costello offers to do some more research on the topic and report back. The Council ultimately agrees to meet again and review the final documents on March 31, 2015.

The meeting is adjourned. (9:15 PM)
